

Nkululeko Lwandile Conco

Cyber Security

I began my career at Gambushe Property, building a strong work ethic. While earning my software development diploma at Rosebank College, I worked as a graphic designer at Logoman Designs, enhancing creativity and problem-solving. Later, as a sales consultant at African Bank, I developed communication and client management skills. Now, as a cybersecurity student at Capaciti, I'm using my diverse experience to excel in digital security.
